History In 1972, Dr. John Coker started the practice in a small office on Ensign Road in Olympia. He was joined two years later by Dr. Jerome H. Zechmann and a year later by Dr. Alan Roser. Dr. Kenneth Partlow III joined the practice in 1982, rounding out the group. In 1993 Dr. Jerome H. Zechmann retired and passed his practice to his son, Dr. Jerome P. Zechmann. Two years later Dr. Coker retired and Dr. Brodie Wood joined the team. Over the next 20 years, we not only grew through physical expansion but also in services. Here is an overview of our journey.

1972 - We opened our first clinic on Ensign Road, near Providence St. Peter Hospital. 1998 - The Westside Clinic was added on Yaeger

Way, near Capital Medical Center. 2002 - We expanded to add the Tumwater Clinic and Olympia Surgery Center on Mottman Rd. 2005 - The Eastside Clinic on Lilly Road was built and we moved into a large portion of the facility. January 2012 - Physical Therapy was added to our line of services. September 2012 - Surgery Center, MRI, Physical Therapy, Westside and Tumwater Clinics opened. March 2015 - Began performing Outpatient Joint Replacements in our Olympia Surgery Center.
